

Find Your Voice & Market It!

Whether you've already taken Jean Zarzour's Find Your Voice-Voice Over Class or you have a demo fresh off the presses, this seminar is for you!

Saturday, February 7, 2009 from 1:00 – 5:00 pm at Donna Belejac Casting, 109 Market St., 2nd Floor, Pittsburgh. Investment: $100

This 4 hour seminar will cover the following:

- How to find the best Voice Acting Class or Private Coach
- How to create a competitive VO demo that reveals your niche and gets you work
- How to market your demo affectively in your region, with and without an agent
- How to get an agent
- How to join a union or compete without one
- How to keep your instrument (voice) and tools (technique) sharp with tricks and tips, before, during and after sessions

Seminar hand outs will be provided, but do bring a notepad and pen. Audio or video recording of any kind is prohibited. Jean Zarzour & Donna Belajac Casting will be video taping the seminar, so there will be release forms available for anyone who does not want to be filmed.

Want feedback on your current demo? There will also be an opportunity for a few participants to have their demo assessed during the 4 hour session. Honest but thoughtful feedback is always provided. I want you to succeed!
